Ensemble Business Software Introduces Paperless Office and Electronic Forms Delivery

Beavercreek, Oregon - October 16, 2008 – Ensemble Business Software, a provider of ERP solutions for the apparel and footwear market, today introduced Paperless Office for Forms with Electronic Delivery and Paperless Office for Journals, Registers and Period-End Processing. These solutions feature electronic document archival of the most popular Ensemble forms, journals, registers and period-end reports as well as electronic delivery of Sales Orders, Invoices, Statements and Purchase Orders. Paperless Office modules are designed to help apparel and footwear vendors improve business-to-business communications with customers and vendors and to save money by reducing the cost of paper, forms, handling and postage.

Documents are converted to and stored in the PDF format, eliminating paper waste and saving money. All documents are viewable from one location with the ability to determine if they have been updated. Electronic delivery includes multiple transport methods for documents including print and mail, e-mail or fax. Forms sent via fax or email can be sent to multiple recipients and large documents can be quickly sent by e-mail to your auditors or remote associates.
